The Grainger Wind Symphony

Saturday February 2nd, 2024

Welcome to the Grainger Wind Symphony's first concert for 2024: Celestial Light! This concert features works that look to the stars for inspiration and celebration. Conducted by GWS Musical Director Roland Yeung and Associate conductor Shane Walterfang, tonight's performance includes breathtaking epic works from the ever-popular Star Wars, Star Trek and Dr Who series as well as Frank Ticheli's award winning Symphony Number 2. For detailed notes on the program, please scan the QR code.

Thank you for your support for the Grainger Wind Symphony. It is a delight and a privilege to perform for a live audience and we greatly appreciate your presence here this evening. Please keep an eye on our website and Facebook page for details of upcoming concerts in our 2024 season.

YOUNG PLAYER SCHOLARSHIP

Daniel Chong
2024 Scholarship Recipient

About the Young Player
Scholarship

Open to young woodwind, brass, percussion and string bass players, the Scholarship seeks to encourage talented young musicians to pursue their interest in wind music beyond secondary school. By raising awareness of the strong community music scene in Melbourne, The Grainger Wind Symphony hopes to engage a whole new generation of musicians in this proud tradition
